room who was squatting in the floor stating his genitals was hurting. While speaking with Kirt it was obvious he was under the influence of a unknown substance based on my years of experience. Kirt could not keep a conversation and appeared to be nodding off.

Deputy then made contact with his disabled aunt who stated that she was asleep in the living room when Kirt came in started yelling and cussing at her for no reason. Victim advised that Kirt then threw some unknown liquid all over her and put her in fear.

Deputy then took Mr. Kirt Estep into custody and transported him to the Loudon County Jail without incident. This did occur in Loudon County Tennessee.

Recognizing Veterans Day on November 11

American Legion Post 256 would like to remind everyone of the history behind Veterans Day:

Veterans Day as we know it wasn't always called "Veterans Day." It began as a commemoration of Armistice Day, the day when the fighting stopped during World War I.

What was then thought to be the "war to end all wars" formally ceased on the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month. And in November 1919, President Wilson proclaimed November 11 as the first commemoration of Armistice Day. A Congressional Act in 1938 made the 11th of November a legal holiday.

On June 1, 1954, November 11th became a day to honor American Veterans of all wars. Later that year, President Dwight D. Eisenhower issued the first "Veterans Day Proclamation."

Post 256 will have a General Membership meeting Friday, 9 a.m., November 6th. The meeting will be at the Little Italy restaurant of Tellico Village, breakfast is available in the dining room beginning at 7:30 a.m. and is purchased individually off the menu. Masks are required to be worn when not eating at your table.

Veterans please join us and RSVP NLT noon on Nov 2nd, so that we can have a good headcount for setting up our meeting space. RSVP POC: adamsaj@aol.com or 423-884-3024.

DUI

Ryan Whitlow, 34, Pathkiller Trail Loudon, was charged with DUI, and Driving on Roadway laned for Traffic.

According to the report, Deputy Clay Jenkins LCSO, conducted a traffic stop on a gray Volkswagon Jetta at the intersection of Hwy 11 and Poplar St after observing vehicle leave its lane of travel almost striking a vehicle head on.

Deputy then made contact with driver Ryan Whitlow and observed Mr. Whitlow to be very lethargic and disoriented but did not observe the smell of alcohol.

Deputy also observed Mr. Whitlow's windshield to be busted with damage to the front end. Mr. Whitlow advised that wood had fell off a truck and struck his vehicle but did not want a report. Deputy Caleb Green responded and due to Deputy Green's certification in ARIDE he requested Mr. Whitlow to perform ARIDE and Standard Field Sobriety Testing in which Mr. Whitlow agreed.

Mr. Whitlow advised he suffered from a back injury and was unable to maintain balance. Deputy Green advised Mr. Whitlow gave several clues of impairment on HGN and gave several indications of impairment during ARIDE testing. Mr. Whitlow was then taken into custody and transported to the Fort Loudoun Medical Center for a blood draw.

After giving blood, Mr. Whitlow was then transported to the Loudon County Jail.

All of this did occur in Loudon County, TN.

herself as a financial professional with over two decades of experience in investment management and fiscal independence for women. As part of her plea, Broussard admitted to entering into an investment agreement with a professional women's sorority pursuant to which she would manage $100,000 of the sorority's funds in February 2015. Beginning in June 2015, Broussard sent regular investment portfolio reports to the sorority purporting to detail investments in securities. Unbeknownst to the sorority, Broussard had used its funds for personal expenses, and the periodic reports were fake. Broussard admitted that, when the sorority noticed inconsistencies in the periodic reports and sought to terminate the agreement, she fabricated a termination penalty that appeared to be part of the original agreement to prevent the sorority from going forward with the termination. When the sorority eventually terminated the agreement, Broussard failed to remit any funds to the sorority.

This case was investigated by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Trial Attorney Michelle Pascucci of the Criminal Division's Fraud Section and Assistant U.S. Attorney Frank M. Dale are prosecuting the case.

The Criminal Division's Fraud Section plays a pivotal role in the Department of Justice's fight against white collar crime around the country.

Individuals who believe that they may be a victim in this case should visit the Fraud Section's Victim Witness website for more information.

Travis Lawhon, 33, Vonore Road Loudon, was charged with Domestic Assault.

According to the report, Deputy Rogers LCSO, was dispatched to a physical domestic at Vonore Rd.

Upon arrival, the victim/complainant, stated her boyfriend Mr. Travis Lawhon, the offender, became upset with her when she came home this said date. When victim told Mr. Lawhon she was leaving him he then threw objects at her and pushed her into the wall.

The offender then picked up his tv and threw it outside. Once out of the residence he began shooting a firearm into the air behind the house. The offender's parents also confirmed these events also stating their son reentered the residence and began yelling and cursing at them. Victim did state she called 911 because she was scared for her safety.

A 9mm Highpoint was recovered on the scene and claimed by the offender. After questioning the offender he also validated the events recounted by the victim and witnesses.

Based on the totality of the circumstances Deputy took the offender into custody for Domestic Assault. Said did occur in Loudon County, TN.
