CDC announces $90M funding to support Pathogen Genomics Centers of Excellence (PGCoE) network

Centers will foster and improve innovation to better prevent, control and respond to microbial threats

CDC announced 5-year awards to five state public health departments. The awards will establish the Pathogen Genomics Centers of Excellence (PGCoE) network. The PGCoE network is intended to foster and improve innovation and technical capacity in pathogen genomics, molecular epidemiology, and bioinformatics to better prevent, control, and respond to microbial threats of public health importance.

The five recipients are the Georgia Department of Public Health, the Minnesota Department of Health, the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, the Virginia Division of Consolidated Laboratory Services, and the Washington State Department of Health, each partnered with one or more academic institutions.

Combined, the PGCoEs will serve as a network to: perform a landscape analysis of gaps, needs and opportunities for genomics in the United States public Leah Horowitz, 19, Happy Valley Road Tallasse, was charged with Man/Sell/Del/Resale Sch. VI & II x2, and Poss. Of Drug Para.

Joshua Templin, 21, Hodge Ridge Road Friendsville, was charged with Man/Sell/Del/Resale Sch. II.

Officer Ketner LCPD, observed a Nissan Sentra traveling in the area of 321/11 with no headlights. Officer stopped the vehicle and he could smell a strong odor of marijuana coming from the vehicle. Officer identified the driver as Leah Horowitz and the passenger as Joshua Templin. Mr. Templin stated that there was a gram or two in the vehicle. A search of the vehicle was conducted. There was one marijuana pipe in the passenger side door next to Templin, $1006.00 dollars in cash in the center console with a set of digital scales, 1.5 grams of marijuana in the back floorboard. Officer also located 10 30mg oxycodone in Ms. Horowitz purse. Ms. Horowitz was read her Miranda rights and agreed to talk. She stated that the pills were hers. She agreed to allow Officer to look in her phone. There was evidence that she was selling illegal. She also stated that her and Templin had just got done selling marijuana. When asked about the large amount of cash both denied ownership of the money.

Carl Ramey, 51, Bennington Court Clarksville, was charged with Man/Sell/Del/Resale Sch. VI, and Simple Possession.

Officer R. Miller LCPD, was conducting a patrol in the area of Highway 321 South in Lenoir City, TN. During patrol duties Officer observed a red in color Honda sedan traveling south on Highway 321. While observing the red in color Honda Officer noticed that the rear driver's side brake light was not functioning properly. Officer initiated a traffic stop on the vehicle in the parking lot of the Lenoir City Police Department. Upon traffic stop Officer made contact with the driver and owner of the vehicle, Carl Ramey. While speaking with RAMEY Officer noticed a odor of marijuana coming from inside of the vehicle at which time he instructed RAMEY to exit the vehicle to speak with him about a traffic citation. While exiting the vehicle Officer observed RAMEY quickly grab a small baggie with an unknown substance from the inside door handle of his vehicle and then quickly place it into his pocket. Officer asked RAMEY about the bag at which time he stated it was a blue Xanax pill. RAMEY then handed him the small baggie containing the blue Xanax pill. RAMEY could not provide a prescription for the Xanax. During a probable cause search of RAMEY'S vehicle, Officer located (5) THC Vape Pens which were in the center console and passenger seat of the vehicle. Officer also located additional bags containing a green leafy substance believed to be marijuana inside of the trunk of RAMEY'S vehicle. The total weight of marijuana was (37.36 Grams). RAMEY was placed under arrest and transported to the Loudon County Jail.

health system; pilot and implement genomics technologies and applications for public health; and prepare for and respond to infectious disease threats.

"The collaboration with our public health and academic partners to conduct and analyze SARS-CoV-2 genomic data has been critical to our COVID-19 response over the past couple years." said Dr. Christopher R. Braden, Acting Director, National Center for Emerging and Zoonotic Infectious Diseases. "Building upon that experience by establishing the Pathogen Genomics Centers of Excellence, a collaboration among state health departments and educational institutions, will help us ensure that public health is innovative, robust, and resilient in the future."

A total of $1.7 billion in funding from the American Rescue Plan (ARP) is helping to support current and future genomic surveillance. These funds include $400 million for innovation, and approximately $90M of this amount will support the PGCoe network over the next 5 years.

"The Centers of Excellence present such an exciting opportunity," said CAPT (USPHS) Ellie Click, M.D., Ph.D., CDC's Lead for Extramural Innovation in the Office of Advanced Molecular Detection. "Over the last few years, the collective response to COVID-19 fostered a huge amount of creativity and collaboration between academia and public health in pathogen genomics. The Centers of Excellence will serve as a platform for ongoing partnership and innovation to inform how we tackle infectious disease threats."

The network also represents an unprecedented opportunity to expand and deepen collaboration between U.S. public health agencies and universities to form a national resource that will advance genomic surveillance. This goal will be accomplished by funding these five Centers of Excellence:

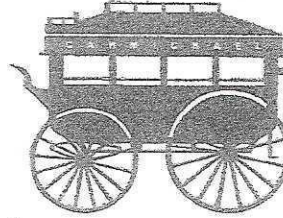

The Georgia Department of Public Health will partner with six academic institutions: University of Georgia, Georgia Tech Research Institute, Emory University, Augusta University, Georgia State University, and the University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston.

The Massachusetts Department of Public Health will partner with the Broad Institute of MIT and Harvard as lead academic partner. Other partners from Massachusetts and Connecticut include Boston University, Mass General Brigham hospital network, Yale University, Fathom Information Design, and Theia-gen Genomics. In addition, it will serve as lead CoE for education with Harvard Medical School, the Broad Institute of MIT and Harvard, and the Massachusetts Consortium on Pathogen Readiness (Mass-CPR).

Horoscopes

happen, just that they're apt to take a little longer than you'd like. Think of it as an opportunity to develop patience. Rework your budget and hang in there!

Scorpio 10/23-11/21

Are you romantically attracted to someone you know through work, Scorpio? If so, this isn't a good time to pursue it. You might be wearing your heart on your sleeve a little too obviously. This could be unsettling for your friend, and it might sabotage the results you're hoping for. Be patient and let the relationship develop. Your feelings could well be mutual!

Sagittarius

11/22-12/21

Inspiration for writing, music, drawing, painting, or other creative activities could hover just out of reach today, Sagittarius. Great ideas could pop into your head and out just as quickly. The only way to avoid the frustration of missing out on wonderful ideas is to write them down as soon as they come. Making notes can also stimulate further inspiration. Go for it!

Capricorn 12/22-01/19

Today you could run into an old friend and suddenly see him or her in a different light. A romantic, sensual attraction you never believed possible could suddenly seem overwhelming. Try to gauge if this person feels the same way. If so, plan a date. Don't write this possibility off because you've labeled this person a "friend."

Aquarius 1/20-2/18

A current or potential love relationship could hit a snag as you have a clash of wills. If either of you is stubborn, this could turn into an unpleasant power struggle. Try to work out a course of action that creates a win/win situation, so neither of you feels compromised. In this way, the development of your relationship will progress rather than regress.

Pisces 2/19-3/20

An opportunity to increase your income by working in an artistic or innovative manner could come your way today, Pisces. Technologies like film or computer graphics may be involved. You may have doubts about your ability to take this on, but that's only your insecurity. Don't be timid. Have a little confidence in yourself. Consider it all carefully. If it seems workable, go for it!

Aries 3/21-4/19

Circumstances beyond your control may frustrate your desire to get together with a love partner today, Aries. Work or family obligations could interfere. If your partner has to beg off, don't get upset and start doling out blame. This won't help and could put your friend on the defensive. Plan to meet another day. Absence makes the heart grow fonder!

Taurus 4/20-5/20

Family who mean a lot to you can make your home an even warmer and cozier place, Taurus. You'll probably spend a lot of time fixing it up in order to receive sincere compliments. The only downside might be that your current partner may not be there due to circumstances beyond anyone's control. Enjoy the visit and invite your family to return when your partner is there, if possible.

Gemini 5/21-6/20

A long but necessary phone call from a close friend or love partner could come at work today, Gemini. Matters of immediate concern need resolution. You might be uneasy about taking company time, and could even attract some unsettling attention, but you need to have this conversation now. It probably won't have any long-term negative effects, so do what you have to do. You'll feel a lot better.

Cancer 6/21-7/22

Today you might discover a previously untapped talent, Cancer, perhaps an artistic gift. This could be thrilling, but it will probably take some getting used to. Your first efforts might be tentative and uncertain, but this is what usually happens when you learn a new skill. Don't get discouraged yet! Give yourself time. Eventually you'll probably love what you do.

Leo 7/23-8/22

You should be looking especially attractive, Leo. You may have an ethereal, mystical look about you that attracts attention from strangers. This won't be lost on your friends, either. You could find it unsettling, particularly if people get too attentive or if a love partner gets jealous. Relax and enjoy it anyway. Needless to say, this is a great day to shop online for clothes!

Virgo 8/23-9/22

Your phone may seem haunted today, Virgo. Calls might be filled with static, you could get some phantom rings, or callers may insist they tried to call when your phone never rang. There probably isn't any supernatural force at work, but it might be a good idea check with your phone company. There could be problems with your equipment.
