Investigation Details Improper Handling of Town of Toone Assets

Former Police Chief involved in several issues

An investigation by the Tennessee Comptroller's Office reveals several problems within the Town of Toone in Hardeman County.

The investigation centers largely on the handling of town assets by the former police chief, who served from 2001 until his resignation in July 2021. Some of the report's findings include:

allowed two former police officers to keep their department-issued handguns upon their resignation without proper authorization.

The former chief initiated and the town board approved the sale of department weapons for $1 each. These transactions violated the town's purchasing policy and state law.

The former chief traded his town-issued handgun in exchange for another weapon without proper authorization from the board.

The former chief retained several of the town's assets at his personal residence, and he allowed a former town employee to retain as-

Eric Gann, 38, Dennis Drive Kingston, was charged with Violation of Order of Protection, and Poss. Of Drug Para.

Tera Love, 34, Bales Avenue Harriman, was charged with Possession of Drug Para.

Deputy Parks LCSO, observed a silver Nissan Altima traveling on Highway 70 west with the passenger not wearing his seatbelt. When the vehicle passed Deputy position the passenger's head snapped toward Deputy and his mouth dropped open.

Deputy initiated a traffic stop on the vehicle at 408 Highway 70 West and approached the vehicle from the passenger's side. Deputy made contact with the passenger, Mr. Eric Gann, and the driver, Ms. Tera Love, and advised them of the reason for the stop. While talking with the occupants Ms. Love began smoking a cigarette. Mr. Gann provided his social security number for identification due to his license being suspended. Deputy asked Ms. Love if she had her license on her person and she presented it to him.

Deputy advised dispatch to conduct a warrant check of the two individuals and approached their vehicle once again. When asked if there were any illegal narcotics in the vehicle, Mr. Gann broke eye contact and began staring at the floor.

Ms. Love advised there was nothing illegal in the vehicle and advised she did not consent to a search when asked. Deputy then called for a K9 to respond to his location for an open air sniff. While waiting for the K9 to respond dispatch advised there was an active Order of Protection out of Roane County by Ms. Love against Mr. Gann (06/24/2022-10/05/2022).

The report further noted, Deputy asked Mr. Gann to step out of the vehicle and placed him under arrest. K9 Deputy Jenkins arrived on scene and Ms. Love was asked to exit the vehicle. Deputy Jenkins deployed his K9 on the vehicle and the K9 positively alerted on the vehicle. During the search of the vehicle, deputies on scene located a meth pipe, loaded marijuana bowl, and a snort straw in a bag on the middle console.

Both occupants denied possession of the paraphernalia, therefore both were charged. Due to Ms. Love's history of failing to appear in court she was placed under arrest. The evidence was seized and bagged on scene. The vehicle was then inventoried and towed from the scene by Malones Wrecker Service. Both subjects were transported to the Loudon County Justice Center without incident. The drug paraphernalia was placed into evidence.

All of the above occurred in Loudon County, Tennessee.

Matthew Childress, 21, Lawhon Farm Road Loudon, was charged with Vandalism, and Domestic Assault.

Deputy Parks LCSO, was dispatched to a domestic at Highway 11 and Shaw Ferry Road. Prior to arrival, Deputy Bengal was able to locate the subjects in a Nissan Sentra and initiated a traffic stop at Highland Park Baptist Church.

When Deputy arrived on scene, Deputy made contact with Mr. Matthew Childress, who advised his girlfriend, the victim, and he were arguing at the Bus Stop Cafe. He advised during the argument he punched victim car windshield multiple times breaking it in two places. Mr. Childress' hand was still bleeding from the windshield. Deputy spoke with victim who advised Mr. Childress had been driving erratically and began punching the windshield causing her to feel unsafe. Victim then got out of the vehicle. The victim advised Mr. Childress drove off and came back to the scene and began yelling at her to get in the car. During this, Mr. Childress punched the windshield two more times and he got out of the car to come get her.

The victim advised that she was in fear for her safety during the entire situation.

Mr. Childress was placed under arrest and transported to the Loudon County Justice Center without incident. The victim filled out a Domestic Assault Statement Form which has been attached to this report.

All of the above occurred in Loudon County, Tennessee.

sets at his personal residence, without proper authorization and any legitimate purpose.

Under the former chief's oversight, two of town's electric utility carts were left at a repair shop for at least two years.

Some town assets and $900 from a trailer sold at auction could not be found or could not be verified as being received.

Investigators have also questioned whether the former chief fully complied with the requirements of the Law Enforcement Support Office (LESO) and the Federal Surplus Personal Property Donation Program (FSPDP) – programs he used to purchase assets on behalf of the town.

Additionally, investigators reported that a town alderman, who was also a part-time employee of the town's street department, used the town's lawnmower for his personal use and retained the town's bush hog at his personal residence.

Furthermore, the town recorder improperly paid at least four duplicate invoices, and paid an invoice for items the town never received.

Investigators have also raised questions about a bulldozer that the town attempted to sell at public auction. Although the bulldozer sold at auction for a total cost of $50,893.75, the high bidder was unable to pay, and the sale was cancelled. The next month, the bulldozer was sold to the former Harde-man County mayor for a total cost of $35,000. Although the mayor claimed to be the second highest bidder at the initial auction, investigators could not substantiate this information, and therefore question if the bulldozer was sold through proper bidding procedures at the highest possible price.

The results of this investigation were communicated to the Office of the District Attorney General of the 25th Judicial District.

"The Town of Toone's annual audits have disclosed problems with the town's handling of LESO and FSPDP assets since at least fiscal year 2015. The town has failed to correct these issues," said Comptroller Jason Mumpower. "This investigative report should serve as the final catalyst for the town board to improve its oversight and implement policies that protect taxpayer dollars and resources."

to attend a workshop. You might have agreed to some overseas business travel. You should feel especially energetic, enthusiastic, and optimistic now. You've done well thanks to your diligent work, and you should continue on that path.

Scorpio 10/23-11/21

Instinct and determination drive you toward unconventional plans for making money, Scorpio. A finance counselor or other professional could be involved. You may see this as an opportunity to restore your ailing bank account. You may have future purchases in mind, perhaps even a new home. Consider your plans carefully before going ahead. You'll want to be sure it's what you need.

Sagittarius

11/22-12/21

Today you may feel a passionate attraction for someone intelligent who perhaps makes a living in law, education, or publishing, Sagittarius. Conversations with this person could touch on some deep issues, such as spiritual matters, the human psyche, or the nature of the universe. You should be deeply affected, not only by the person but also by the subjects. Take a walk later to clear your head.

Capricorn 12/22-01/19

This could be a quiet day for you and your partner, Capricorn. You could spend some time reflecting on past achievements and future goals. It's important to get a clear picture about the past so you can draw conclusions and make workable plans. If you have a family, you'll probably be interested in activities that everyone will enjoy. Make some time to get together when it's possible. Leave tension behind.

Aquarius 1/20-2/18

All the positive energy generated by the celestial atmosphere seems to come together today as you experience a rush of sensual passion for a romantic partner, Aquarius.

An unexpected encounter could not only fulfill this desire but also bring you closer. If you aren't already committed, expect to discuss it tonight. Be careful to exercise restraint. Your lover could panic if you push too hard.

Pisces 2/19-3/20

A call from someone you haven't heard from in a while could generate mixed feelings, Pisces. On the one hand, you're probably glad to resume contact with this person. On the other, because you weren't expecting to hear from them, it could create extra emotions for you - as if you didn't already have enough on your plate! Talk to another friend about how you feel so you can enjoy your evening.

Aries 3/21-4/19

Someone who's been ill and perhaps undergone surgery might phone you today, Aries. You could invite this person to join you for a little virtual social gathering. Several people could be involved. All of them will have some interesting and useful information to offer. Enjoy your day.

Taurus 4/20-5/20

With the planetary atmosphere today, your sensual nature is in full bloom. If there's a romantic partner nearby, that person should be on guard! There may be a lot of other people around, so a chance to be alone probably won't present itself until this evening. If you don't connect with a potential partner, at least you'll have a good time. Hang in there and be patient!

Gemini 5/21-6/20

You might have to play nurse today, Gemini. A love partner could claim to feel unwell, and you might expend a lot of energy trying to make your friend feel better. Don't overdo it. There may be psychological factors at work. Your friend could be jealous of the attention you've been giving family and friends. Be attentive, but within limits!

Cancer 6/21-7/22

You're generally focused on the material world, Cancer, but something about the energy generated by today's planetary alignments causes you to look within. You might think about the joys and pangs of past family gatherings and wonder how they affect your life now. This is a positive, healing process, so don't fight it. It won't interfere with what's going on around you.

Leo 7/23-8/22

A virtual group event could put you in contact with a number of people interested in doing a healing meditation for the planet. This sort of activity can work wonders to strengthen the bond among those performing it. You might not talk much during the discussions, but you're apt to be in total agreement with the idea. Enjoy your day.

Virgo 8/23-9/22

Happiness reigns in the home as everyone feels the energy changing, Virgo. It seems that the end of one cycle brings closure, and now you're free to start a new journey of rebirth. You, above all, are apt to feel a powerful rush of intuition, which could reveal positive events coming up for you and those close to you. A few doubts may cloud your impressions, but let them go.
