TRUCK DRIVER WHO KILLED LOUDON COUNTY SHERIFF'S SGT. CHRIS JENKINS PLEADS GUILTY TO VEHICULAR HOMICIDE BY INTOXICATION AND RECEIVES TEN YEAR PRISON SENTENCE

Christopher Savannah (a 43 YOM) from Houston, Texas, was the driver of a Freightliner tractor-trailer that killed Loudon County Sheriff's Sgt. Chris Jenkins on I-75 on the morning of February 3, 2022, at approximately 8 am. Savannah, who admitted to smoking marijuana before and while driving his rig, was determined at the scene through standardized field sobriety tests, and later by testing of a sample of his blood, to have been under the influence of marijuana when Savannah failed to stop his rig during a rolling roadblock that was being conducted by Sgt. Jenkins so that Jenkins could stop and remove an extension ladder from the middle of the northbound interstate lanes.

The Plea Agreement and Hearing Savannah pled guilty today [Wednesday] at the Roane County Courthouse in front of Criminal Court Judge Jeff Wicks. The plea was an agreed upon sen-

Dechard Man Pleads Guilty To Tax Perjury, Pays Nearly $1.5 Million In Restitution To IRS

On October 11, 2023, Ross A. Rinkes, 66, of Dechard, Tennessee, pleaded guilty to making and subscribing a false U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, Form 1040, in the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Tennessee at Chattanooga. Sentencing has been set for March 7, 2024, before the Honorable Charles E. Atchley, Jr., in the United States District Court at Chattanooga.

Rinkes faces a term of up to three years in federal prison, a fine of up to $100,000, and supervised release for up to one year. As required by his plea agreement with the government, he has paid restitution to the IRS in the amount of $1,485,120.38, which includes unpaid taxes plus penalties and interest required by law.

As part of the plea agreement filed with the court, Rinkes waived an indictment by a Federal Grand Jury and agreed to plead guilty to the aforementioned charge. Rinkes, the owner of Rinkes Angus Ranch, a farm near Dechard, Tennessee, was in the business tence of ten years to serve in TDOC custody on a Class B felony of Vehicular Homicide by Intoxication [for the death of Jenkins], along with the two charges of Felony Reckless Endangerment, Class E felonies [for two other occupied vehicles he also struck], and multiple commercial motor carrier violations. It should be noted that Savannah has been in custody at the Roane County Jail since he was originally charged the day of the incident. Savannah has no prior criminal history and under Tennessee's vehicular homicide law at the time that Sgt. Jenkins was killed, the sentence range for vehicular homicide starts at eight years, so this agreement adds two years to that sentence. This plea offer was made at the request of Chris Jenkins' son, LCSO Narcotics Detective Clay Jenkins, and the plea agreement confirmed with the family members who are all glad to have a resolution to this case and are now able to put this behind them to relieve them of the stress and emotion of a jury trial which is now set for 2024.

Jenkins' Death Led to Changes in the Law

Since Jenkins' death the Tennessee Legislature has elevated vehicular homicide punishments by increasing the mandatory service time to 100% (or 85% with good behavior). The circumstances of Jenkins' death by a driver under the influence of marijuana helped this effort. Also, the Legislature made it a requirement to have items like ladders properly secured in the back of a pickup truck or trailer with it now being a Class A misdemeanor TCA 55-7-119 to leave these items unsecured. This law was passed and is known as The Sergeant Chris Jenkins Law. [Former state trooper/State Representative Lowell Russell sponsored and passed this law along with Senator Becky Massey and Lt. Governor Randy McNally].

NOTE – THP Dan Morton and 9th DTF Deputy Director Brendan Deboer were able, after several days of investigation following leads, determine the driver of the pickup from which the ladder came out to initiate this incident. That driver was charged and convicted on three counts of misdemeanor reckless endangerment.

February 3rd, 2022, and the Effort to Get the Scene Investigation Conducted According to 'The Textbook'

Just before 8 am that February morning there were reports to 911 from other drivers that the ladder was causing vehicles to swerve with at least two or three vehicles striking or even running over a ladder. Sgt. Jenkins, who was driving his police cruiser on Highway 72 with his K-9 Deja in the backseat compartment, volunteered to undertake the task of removing the ladder before it caused anyone to wreck. Jenkins entered I-75 northbound from Highway 72 via the on ramp at Exit 72. He had all lights flashing and maneuvered in front of traffic straddling the center of the two northbound lanes to effectuate a rolling 'roadblock', eventually bringing all other traffic in the two lanes behind his cruiser to a stop near the 74-mile marker. Jenkins pulled over to the right-hand shoulder, stopped and was exiting the cruiser to remove the orange fiberglass, electrician's extension ladder that was unsecured in the bed of a pickup truck and had fallen out of truck in the middle of the northbound interstate lanes.

Savannah, instead of coming to a stop like surrounding traffic, plowed his 78,300 lbs. rig into at least two vehicles in front of him causing one of these vehicles to hit another. As the truck continued through the cars, the Freightliner struck Sgt. Jenkins as Jenkins exited his cruiser causing his immediate death.

The incident caused both northbound lanes of I-75 between Loudon and Sugar Limb Road to be closed for the remainder of the long day. Almost every law enforcement officer, firefighter and EMS in Loudon County responded along with the Tennessee Highway Patrol and other surrounding agencies. District Attorney General Russell Johnson and ADA Joe Caldwell also arrived and designated THP to take charge of the scene so that local law enforcement could deal with the grief and devastation of the moment.

Sgt. Chris Jenkins was pronounced dead at the scene. Brittany Cook, one of the drivers of a vehicle that was hit, was transported to Fort Loudoun Medical Center for injuries sustained during the crash. Donald McCormick, who was the driver of another impacted vehicle, was observed and treated for any injuries on scene.

The Tennessee Highway Patrol (THP) worked the fatal crash scene along with THP's Critical Incident Response Team (CIRT) and Criminal Investigation Division (CID). Trooper Paul Dubroc performed the initial field sobriety of Savannah at the scene. Savannah would later be taken off scene for further drug recognition field sobriety testing by THP and DRE Expert John Mayes, then a Roane County Sheriff's Detective. THP Sgt. Robert Woody and THP Trooper Matt Armes conducted an inspection of the cab and the entire 'commercial motor vehicle'. A more extensive post-crash inspection was performed by THP Sgt. Scott Hines. THP Lt. Justin Boyd led the CIRT see Jenkins ctd. pg. 3 investigation of the crash scene and performed analysis. Every first responder and law enforcement officer involved in the investigation and prosecution of this horrific crash exemplified professionalism, diligence, and expertise. The investigation was conducted in a manner that could be used as the textbook 'gold standard' on how a vehicular homicide case should be handled. The same can be said of ADA Joe

The Impact of Chris Jenkins' Death and His Legacy – Sheriff Tim Guider and Sheriff Jimmy Davis

The entire Loudon County law enforcement and first responder team was gravely impacted by the death of Chris Jenkins, including our office who knew and worked with Chris for decades. The entire Loudon County Community came together to memorialize Sgt. Chris Jenkins and to put their collective arms around Chris' family and especially his son, Loudon County Sheriff's Drug Investigator Clay Jenkins, and Chris' daughter, Chloe Jenkins, a student at Loudon High School. I have known Chris since before I started as the District Attorney and watched him advance through the ranks and become a solid law enforcement officer, a leader among his peers and a K-9 officer.

Former Sheriff Tim Guid-

er and former Chief Deputy Sheriff (now current Sheriff) Jimmy Davis spoke at the time and many times afterwards about Chris Jenkins' legacy to the LCSO and the entire Loudon County Community. Like Sheriff Guider leading so many memorial services and events for Chris during the last year of his tenure, Sheriff Davis has continued keeping his memory alive to provide meaning to and a leadership example for so many newer deputies. Clay, was made a Narcotics Investigator by Sheriff Davis and Clay now is the handler for his father's K-9 partner, Deja.

The Prosecution and Where We Go From Here

ADA Joe Caldwell headed up the prosecution team which includes ADA Jed Bassett and DUI Unit Coordinator Holly Miller, as well as other ADAs and staff that have played important roles. ADA Caldwell has made this case a priority among his heavy docket of vehicular homicides, vehicular assaults, and DUI cases in all four of our counties. Joe Caldwell and his team have been sensitive to the concerns of the Jenkins family and has worked diligently to keep this case moving and to get it to a point where we have a resolution that has been 'blessed' by Clay and Chloe Jenkins and their family members. Any tragic crime like this can never bring complete justice or total closure for the family members of the deceased loved one. This result, however, brings a large measure of justice, it brings some amount of closure and hopefully some long-awaited peace.

There is always hope that the prison sentence will give the defendant sufficient time to focus his attention on making a better outcome for his future after prison. Also, by him accepting responsibility for his role and guilt in Chris Jenkins' death, he has hopefully helped himself and, hopefully the Jenkins family. Attorney Sam Hudson of Dunlap, Tennessee represented Christopher Savannah in this matter.

Violation

Walter Stachowicz, 42, Grandview Drive Loudon, was charged with Domestic Assault, and Violation of Order of Protection.

Deputy Sean Yap LCSO, was dispatched to Grandview Drive reference to a domestic disturbance in progress where her son, Walter Stachowicz who is highly intoxicated on alcohol has been yelling outside her residence since 0500 hours this morning and throwing bricks at the door. Upon arrival, Deputy contacted the victim inside her residence who stated that Walter was inside her bedroom. Deputy entered the residence and made contact with Walter who was highly intoxicated and gave him a lawful order to get on the ground and with time he refused. Loudon City PD and Deputy Yap then escorted him to the ground and detained him. Further investigation revealed that Walter put victim in fear for her safety when he unlawfully and intentionally threatened to kill her and then threw a brick through the screen and door almost striking victim who was standing in her screened in porch. Victim then ran and called the police. Victim stated that she will prosecute. Records check on Walter revealed that he has a temporary protection order against him for victim that was issued on 04/18/2020 and does not expire until 02/16/2024. Walter was taken into custody for domestic assault and violation of order of temporary protection order. This did occur in Loudon County, Tennessee.

Police beat

Ray Hensley, 58, Highway 70 West Lenoir City, was charged with Disorderly Conduct, and Harassment.

Deputy Parks LCSO, responded to Highway 70 West in reference to a fight. On scene, deputy made contact with Mr. Ray David Hensley. Mr. Hensley was heavily intoxicated, and yelling belligerently. This caused neighbors to come outside to investigate the disturbance. Mr. Hensley was detained due to being a nuisance and causing a public annoyance. Deputies had responded to the scene earlier in the day due to Mr. Hensley harassing the complainants, who showed video of Mr. Hensley dumping feces and urine in front of their residence. When confronted, Mr. Hensley began getting belligerent and threatening the two. Mr. Hensley then began to charge the two, at which point one complainant struck him in the torso with a baseball bat to defend himself and the other complainant.

Mr. Hensley was placed into custody for harassment and disorderly conduct and transported to the Loudon County Justice Center without incident. All of the above occurred in Loudon County, Tennessee.

Public Notice

The Loudon County Commission will hold a public hearing at 6:00 p.m. on Monday, Dec 4th, 2023, in the Loudon County Courthouse Annex to receive public comments regarding Road Closure for Port Madison Drive located at the end of Port Madison Subdivision, Loudon County, TN. Located in the 1st Legislative District.

Suspicious

Jessie Winbash, 33, James Circle Florida, was charged with Simple Possession, Poss. o Drug Para., No Driver License, and Altering/Falsifying or Forging Auto Title.

Deputy Parks LCSO, observed a gray Honda Civic parked unattended at the gas pump at Elizabeth Lee Parkway (Love's Truck Stop). Deputy advised dispatch of the registration, Ohio JXB3194, which they advised returned to a Dodge. Deputy observed a male exit Love's and walk to the vehicle and began pumping gas, staring at my police cruiser throughout. Deputy exited the parking lot and went across the street and he observed the male smoking a cigarette and watching him during this time. Deputy returned to the Love's gas station later and saw the male in the sitting area of Arby's watching my police cruiser. It seemed that the male was avoiding contact with the deputy and deputy entered the Arby's and began talking to the male. Deputy asked if the gray

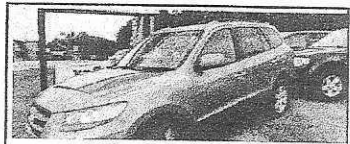

Honda was his vehicle and he advised it was his cousin's and he did not know anything about it. Deputy asked him why the tag was for a different vehicle and he advised he didn't know and that he did not know anything about the vehicle. The male went on to state he was just driving the vehicle. Deputy asked the male where he was driving to and he advised he was going to Atlanta from Columbus, Ohio. Deputy asked if he lived in Columbus and he advised that he lived in Tallahassee, Florida. Deputy asked if he was staying in Atlanta and he advised he was not, he was just dropping the vehicle off at his cousin's house. The male then stated that he planned to take a bus from Atlanta to Tallahassee to get home. Deputy asked the male if he cared to come outside and open the door on the vehicle so deputy could run the VIN, and he agreed to. Deputy then asked the male for his ID, and he presented a Florida license identifying him as Mr. Jessie Winbash Jr. Deputy ran the vin on the vehicle and continued to speak with Mr. Winbash, who continually advised him he did not know anything about the vehicle and had no idea what was inside. Dispatch advised the vin returned to the 2007 Honda Accord. He advised his cousin had just bought the vehicle on 11/11 and was also traveling to Atlanta in a different vehicle and had to stop in Lexington, KY. Deputy then asked Mr. Winbash if there was any weapons or anything illegal in the vehicle, to which he advised there was not. Deputy asked Mr. Winbash for consent to search to which he consented. A search of the vehicle yielded a bottle containing 29 Gabapentin pills not prescribed to Mr. Winbash, as well as a pipe and a scale. Also located inside the vehicle was the Ohio ID of a Austin, as well as numerous debit and credit cards belonging to Mr. Austin. Also located in the trunk of the vehicle was various clothes and personal items. Inside the vehicle deputies also located various items commonly used in electronic financial crimes. A social security card belonging to an Bradwell was also located. These items were bagged and submitted into evidence for further processing and investigation. Mr. Winbash was placed into custody and transported to the Loudon County Justice Center without incident. The vehicle was towed from the scene by James. A short time later, Austin contacted Loudon County Dispatch advising his vehicle had been stolen from a convenience store in Columbus on 11/11 around 1600 hours. Austin attempted to file a report with Columbus PD regarding the vehicle theft, but was unable to, due to not having any proof of ownership. Columbus PD responded to the address of the last registered owner who advised she had sold the vehicle approximately a year and a half prior to a Bradwell who has not been contacted regarding the vehicle at this time. An NCIC hit confirmation was received regarding the Ohio JXB3194 registration as a stolen license plate. NIC#P018367836. All of the above occurred in Loudon County, Tennessee.

of purchasing and reselling chicken litter, which is used as fertilizer, and selling crops to grain aggregators. For 2015, 2017, 2018, 2019, and 2020, he provided his tax return preparer with false information that led to material underreporting of his income for each year. Rinkes signed those tax returns under penalty of perjury. On his tax return for 2017, Rinkes willfully and falsely underreported his income by at least $523,796, which resulted in him underreporting his income tax due for that year by at least $181,659. His false individual income tax returns for 2015, 2017, 2018, 2019, and 2020 resulted in a total tax loss of $679,515 to the United States.

Hancock County Leaders Must Commit to Fixing Problems

The annual audit of Hancock County for the fiscal year ending on June 30, 2023 includes 10 findings of non-compliance or deficiencies within county government offices.

The Tennessee Comptroller's audit report notes that four of the 10 findings were also reported last year but had not been corrected. Importantly, auditors could not find documented evidence that Hancock County's Audit Committee met in fiscal year 2023. This committee should be providing oversight, reviewing various risks, and working to correct audit issues.

Some of the findings within the new report show that Hancock County had expenditures that exceeded the appropriations approved by the county commission; purchasing deficiencies; and accounting deficiencies.

Auditors also noted the county mayor had a direct conflict of interest due to the county's payment of $4,800 to his spouse for rent payments on the Hancock County Soil Conservation District Office. The County Mayor and his spouse own the building. These payments violate the state conflict of interest statute.

In addition to the findings related to the Office of County Mayor, auditors also noted findings for the Office of Director of Schools, and the Office of Sheriff.

"The number of findings in Hancock County has exceeded the state average for many years," said Comptroller Mumpower. "It's time for the county's elected leaders and officials to dedicate themselves to resolving audit issues. I also encourage the Audit Committee to hold regular meetings to provide oversight and accountability."

Horoscopes

Sagittarius 11/22-12/21
Social events could take up a lot of your time tonight, and you may enjoy being in contact with friends you haven't seen for a while. Conversations should be fascinating.

Capricorn 12/22-01/19
Work and career matters could finally bring you the success and good fortune you've been hoping for. This may be acknowledgement for effort and dedication as well as hard work.

Aquarius 1/20-2/18
Love of someone from far away could be very much on your mind today, and perhaps love for the place where the person lives. You may be bored with your routine and anxious to embrace adventure.

Pisces 2/19-3/20
A number of interesting visitors could show up today. Perhaps you're having a party or hosting an activity. These callers could include people in the sciences, or people who deal with money, such as bankers, investment counselors, or real estate brokers.

Aries 3/21-4/19
Publications could bring some fascinating new knowledge your way. You'll want to discuss it with friends. Conversations about any subject should be informative and beneficial since your mind is so perceptive and retentive.

Taurus 4/20-5/20
Valuable tips to increase your income could come your way today, possibly from a close friend or colleague. You should feel well and look particularly attractive.

Gemini 5/21-6/20
Romance and art are the keys today. You could feel spiritually inspired by great music, paintings, poetry, or drama. You might want to share these feelings with a special someone.

Cancer 6/21-7/22
Today you won't be indifferent to anything. Good news could elevate you to near ecstasy. Bad news could send you to the depths of despair.

Leo 7/23-8/22
A desire to learn through a group activity - a lecture or workshop, perhaps - might put you in the middle of a crowd. You'll find it exhilarating. If you're planning to attend such an event, don't go alone.

Virgo 8/23-9/22
You've had recent success in your profession. You've worked hard and learned things, and this hasn't been lost on those above you in the hierarchy. You have earned new respect for yourself and your skills.

Libra 9/23-10/22
Today should be very fortunate, particularly where love is concerned. Relations with your special someone could be closer than ever. You might even feel warm and loving toward everyone, even strangers.
