Hardeman County Audit Details Variety of Problems

The Tennessee Comptroller's annual audit of Hardeman County government shows that county leaders have many issues to address. The fiscal year 2022 audit contains 12 findings, the most of any county audit released to date.

Six of the 12 findings were also noted in the fiscal year 2021 report. A finding is repeated when sufficient corrective action has not been made.

Auditors noted seven findings related to the Office of the County Mayor. These include purchasing, budget, and payroll deficiencies. One finding notes that county commissioners received a $250 bonus in December 2021, which violates state law prohibiting increases in compensation for members of the county legislative body until a new term begins.

Findings were also made in the offices of the Highway Superintendent, Director of Schools, Trustee, and Sheriff.

The audit report includes a best practice recommendation that Hardeman County

Richard Strauser, 54, North Huff Ferry Road Lenoir City, was charged with Mfg/Del/Sale or Poss. of Meth, Violation of Probation, Tampering/Fabricating with Evidence, Driving on Revoked/Suspended License, Speeding, and Signals for turns.

Chancey Green, 41, Foster Road Lenoir City, was charged with Capias, Violation of Probation, and Tampering/Fabrication of Evidence.

Deputy Harrison LCSO, observed a silver Mazda traveling on interstate 75 southbound signaling its lane change mid-way through the lane change and traveling 75mph in a 70mph zone. Deputy conducted a traffic stop on the vehicle on the 76 southbound exit ramp. Once Deputy made contact with the driver, Richard Strauser, and the passenger Chancey Green, Green appeared visibly nervous and Strauser stated he did not have his license. Deputy had Strauser exit the vehicle, and while doing so he observed a needle in plain view under the driver seat. While writing a warning for the initial traffic violations and speaking with Strauser further, he stated he is on probation and has a history of meth use. Consent to search the vehicle was granted. While removing Green from the vehicle he stated he had a used needle in his front right pocket. After consent searching both occupants, Deputy continued with a consent/probable cause search of the vehicle. During his search, Deputy located a small clear baggie with crystal-like residue on the passenger floorboard bit in half and wet. When Deputy asked Green if he ate the narcotics that were in the bag he stated he did. While continuing his search of the vehicle, Deputy located approximately 0.9g of methamphetamine in a half-gallon chocolate milk jug the driver was in possession of during the stop. During the duration of the investigation, the contents of the bag continued to dissolve due to the narcotics sitting in the liquid. Based on the above facts, both subjects were placed in custody. Narcotics investigator C. Jenkins arrived on the scene and assisted with the arrests. Loudon County Dispatch also advised Chancey Green had an active Lenoir City warrant, and Strauser's license was suspended.

Once on scene at the jail, it was confirmed both subjects had violation of probation warrants out of Loudon County General Sessions. A TruNarc scan was conducted on the substance which resulted in a positive scan for meth and/or fentanyl.

Vandalism

Bryson Young, 35, Holland Trail Lenoir City, was charged with Vandalism.

CPL Chance Gray LCSO, was dispatched to Holland Trail about possible theft and vandalism. Upon arrival, Deputy made contact with victim, who stated that she had been in an argument with her baby's father Mr. Bryson Young approximately four days ago. She stated that she left the home to avoid the argument and stayed gone for four days to let things calm down. She advised that she returned home to retrieve things for herself and the children to find items of hers and the children's missing. She stated that she began looking for the items to find that Mr. Young had burnt an H2OGO blow-up invadable water toy in the fire pit in the back yard burnt. She stated that her daughter's Chromebook laptop was also missing. She stated that she asked Mr. Young what happened to the laptop to which he stated that he did not know. Mr. Young did advise her that he burnt the blow-up water toy. I then began speaking with Mr. Young who stated that he did burn the water toy, but he thought that it was just junk in the yard and did not know anything about the laptop. Mr. Young then stated that he burnt the toy due to it having a hole in it. Mr. Young was taken into custody for vandalism. The value of the water toy is 499.00, and the laptop is 80.00 according to Ms. Farmer.

Heroin Found in Traffic Stop

Erik Stewart, 42, Hixson Pike Hixson, was charged with, DUI, Violation of Implied Consent, and Man/Sell/Del Resale Sch. I.

Dep. L. Hawkins LCSO, was dispatched to the area of Interstate 75 South in reference to a reckless driver. The caller, had been observing a 2004 Silver Pontiac Grand Prix from inside Knox County into Loudon County. She stated the vehicle was unable to maintain its lane and was fluctuating speed. Deputy was stationary at the 69MM observing traffic when the described vehicle passed him. Deputy pulled out into traffic and was unable to conduct a traffic stop until the 64 MM inside Monroe due to heavy traffic. Dep. Kirkland made contact with the driver, Erik Stuart. He observed the male falling asleep and was opening the Weather App on his phone when asked for his registration. Mr. Stuart was asked to exit the vehicle and consented to S.F.S.T. and he preformed poorly. Deputy then conducted A.R.I.D.E and Mr. Stuart showed indicators of impairment. During testing, Mr. Stuart began to fall asleep multiple times. He was placed into custody at that time and read the Implied Consent form, he refused to provide a sample. Deputy and Dep. Parks conducted a vehicle inventory and located a small baggie with brown power inside it, in the drivers side floorboard. Deputy asked Mr. Stuart what this substance was, he replied "Probably heroin because that's what my friend uses." This bag weighed at .53g and was tested, via TruNarc scan# 1901, by Inv. C. Green. TruNarc testing showed the substance to be Fentanyl. A search of his persons was conducted but no other illegal items were found. James Wrecker Service towed the vehicle and Deputy transported him to The Loudon County Jail. During his booking, .4g of a brown rock substance was found inside his wallet. All the above did occur in Loudon County, Tennessee.

Audit
 consider centralizing its accounting functions under one office. The county already has centralized budgeting and purchasing, and it would minimize duplication of effort if it also centralized accounting.

“We are encouraged that new leadership in Harde-man County is taking these audit findings seriously,” said Comptroller Jason Mumpower. “It’s my hope that the new county mayor will work with the county commissioners and the Audit Committee to correct all areas of deficiency, non-compliance, and weakness within the government.”

Asked about the manufacturer of the balloon or whether its design was based on stolen intelligence, Paul said the FBI is not in position “at this point to have that information.” He said both the FBI Laboratory and OTD are working to determine the source of the balloon components. Additionally, the FBI has no information or physical evidence (at this time) that contradicts previous statements made by other government agencies.

The Laboratory Division leads the collection, transportation, and subsequent forensic examinations of evidentiary material. It is staffed with subject matter experts, including highly trained evidence response dive teams and hazardous evidence response teams, which contribute to the mission of collecting, analyzing, and sharing timely scientific and technical information within the FBI and with other government and law enforcement agencies.

The OTD is the FBI’s provenance for applied technology enabling and enhancing investigations. OTD personnel have been deployed to assist with recovery efforts and initial assessments of technological evidence.

Horoscopes

time to reevaluate your progress over the next few months.

Pisces 2/19-3/20

Aggressive people may interfere with your plans today, Pisces, so don't get too upset if things don't work out the way you want them to. Let this be an exercise in learning how to think and act on your feet. Remember that you can play this game as well as others. Deliver an unexpected surprise right back and see how they deal with it. Perhaps you can learn something.

Aries 3/21-4/19

It's hard to keep your balance when a big rock suddenly falls on one side of the scale, Aries. Resolving the matter isn't as hard as you think, because this rock has been dropped there as a gift. Even though it might be shocking at first, there's an important message in this surprise. The tricky part is figuring out what it is.

Taurus 4/20-5/20

Like a team of pickpockets in a crowd, a group may have its eyes on you and secretly scheme to take advantage of your innocence, Taurus. One may work to distract you with something playful and harmless, while the others work behind your back to secretly steal your valuables. Stay aware of yourself and your belongings at all times.

Gemini 5/21-6/20

Opportunity is the name of the game for you, Gemini. Don't turn out the lights before you make sure you've explored all your options today. Inspiration may come in a flash of unexpected thought, so make sure you have a pad and pencil handy. A good idea could be disguised as something insignificant, but if anyone is able to see the potential in something, it's you.

Cancer 6/21-7/22

Today you may be asked to choose between the old and the new, Cancer. It's as if people are protesting in some manner and you're being asked to join in the ranks of those wishing to see change. Make sure you honestly assess all the available information before you automatically dismiss the situation as foolish. You should seriously consider lending a hand to the fight.

Leo 7/23-8/22

Your inner strength and courage are tremendous today. You will find that people naturally gravitate toward you, Leo. Accept this flood of energy and put it to good use however you see fit. A spark of genius may hit you sometime during the day. It will have you up all night working on a new invention.

Virgo 8/23-9/22

Wear the striped shirt and polka-dot pants today, Virgo. The more you clash with the outside world the better. You may feel wildly out of place at first, but you will begin to see the beauty, importance, and respect you hold by standing out from the crowd. This attitude change will do you good. You may see a whole new way of living.

Libra 9/23-10/22

If you don't understand something, ask, Libra. If it looks different to you, ask why that is. Your curiosity is high, especially when it comes to the unconventional, and even more if it's revolutionary. The rebel in you will feel new purpose, and you may be tempted to throw a stick in the spokes of an old carriage that continues to head down the same old boring path.

Scorpio 10/23-11/21

You may be shaken to the core today by someone of great personal magnetism, Scorpio. Maybe you feel as if you're being overshadowowed because of the grandiose ideas and mountains of information coming from this person. Perhaps you feel you're too slow. Did you ever think that someone is going too quickly? Don't automatically think that you're the one who needs to change gears.

Sagittarius

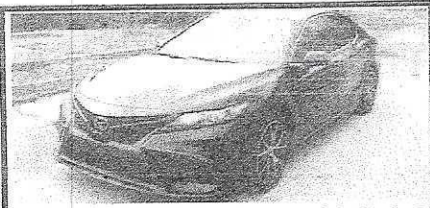

11/22-12/21

Your internal computer just got upgraded today and your head is buzzing with all kinds of new information, Sagittarius. The good news is that you should be able to process all these bytes at lightning speed. Act swiftly and with great confidence. You can do anything. You could even talk your way into the White House for dinner.

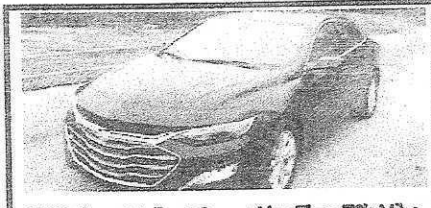

Capricorn 12/22-01/19

You may feel a bit lonely today, Capricorn, even if there are people all around you. It may seem like everyone's on a different plane. Maybe you think you have nothing in common with others - even those you generally feel closest to. You may be apprehensive about what they think of you after you tell them what you're really thinking or feeling. Don't let this stop you from making your thoughts known.
