Town of Henning Overcomes Big Financial Challenges

The small town of Henning, Tennessee (population 871) in Lauderdale County has made extraordinary progress in improving its financial health after it found itself in a troubling situation that threatened the town's solvency.

Less than 10 years ago, the Town of Henning was spending too much money and was improperly borrowing from its water, sewer, and gas funds to support general government operations. By fiscal year 2015, the town owed its utility funds more than $500,000, which was greater than the total amount of revenue collected by the town that year.

The Comptroller's Office, in cooperation with the Municipal Technical Advisory Service, worked with the town to establish a corrective action plan to repay the town's interfund debt to its utility funds. The town government, under the leadership of former Mayor Marva Temple, also had to make difficult decisions to reduce its spending so that it could operate on a balanced budget.

recently released audit report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2021, Henning has successfully repaid its utility funds and has saved nearly two years of annual expenditures in its general fund – a remarkable improvement.

“I want to commend the town’s leaders for making an incredible turnaround,” said Comptroller Jason Mumpower. “Henning’s governing body demonstrated leadership and took personal responsibility to change the town’s future. By following a corrective action plan, the Mayor and Board of Aldermen has shown its respect for the town’s financial health and its citizens.

Comptroller Mumpower has also issued a letter of commendation to the Town of Henning’s leaders. You can view the letter at TN.Gov.

Bradley Central High School Band Booster Club Member Indicted

An investigation by the Tennessee Comptroller’s Office has resulted in the indictment of Crystal Lynn, who served as the concession manager for the Bradley Central High School Band Booster Club in Cleveland, Tennessee.

Investigators determined that Lynn misappropriated at least $2,069.59 from the booster club by making personal purchases between September 2021 and Deember 2021.

The booster club’s primary fundraiser is selling concessions during football games. As the concession manager, Lynn was responsible for purchasing concession items before each game. In addition to the concessions, Lynn also included personal items, including gift cards and clothing, with her purchases. She used a booster club check to make these purchases.

It should be noted that Lynn repaid the booster club $2,069.59 on December 13, 2021.

In addition to Lynn’s misappropriation, investigators also noted the booster club had other questionable and unsupported purchases totaling $904. These purchases were made by other members of the booster club, but they were not adequately documented with itemized receipts or invoices. Investigators could not determine if these purchases were made for the exclusive benefit of the club.

In February 2023, the Bradley County Grand Jury indicted Crystal Lynn on one count of theft over $1,000.

“Booster clubs must ensure they have adequate controls in place to safeguard money and property,” said Comptroller Mumpower. “In this case, the booster club allowed some checks to be signed before purchases were made, and they did not maintain adequate documentation to support all purchases. These controls help reduce the risk of improper transactions.”

Horoscopes

relationship. Communication is key in order to maintain a healthy romance at any level.

Aries 3/21-4/19

Things regarding love and romance may be a bit dicey for you, Aries. You may find that you have to make a few adjustments in order to remain on the same page as your loved ones. Neither one of you may feel like taking the lead at this time, causing some hesitation in the relationship. While each of you is trying to second-guess the other, confusion is likely to reign.

Taurus 4/20-5/20

The more tightly you try to hang onto something, Taurus, the more likely it is it will want to slip through your fingers. Grab what you want, but don't squeeze too hard. Maintain an important balance between showing someone you care by taking them under your wing and allowing them the freedom to be their own person. Sensitive feelings are operating today, so proceed with care.

Gemini 5/21-6/20

Matters involving love and romance might not go exactly the way you'd like, Gemini. You could be waiting for your partner to make the next move, since you're unsure of which way the relationship is progressing. At the same time, it may be that your partner is the one waiting for you. Keep the lines of communication open and stop playing confusing mind games.

Cancer 6/21-7/22

Things should be going well for you in the love and romance department, Cancer, but you could find that today things get a bit tenuous. While you want things to be clear and planned out, it could be that your partner longs for more freedom and spontaneity. Tension may result if either party becomes too set in their ways. The tension may arise when neither partner wants to take the lead.

Leo 7/23-8/22

People may be wondering how to proceed while you're off doing your own thing. Don't go in one direction and leave someone else behind, Leo. In matters regarding love and romance, you may have to slow down and communicate with your partner. Take the lead and try not to get slowed down by other people's indecisiveness. You know which direction to go, so go there.

Virgo 8/23-9/22

Recent events in the love and romance department may have you feeling like you aren't getting your needs met, Virgo. Remember that other people aren't mind readers the way you are. If someone's behavior isn't right with you, say so. Romantic partnerships should uplift and support your dreams, not something you make personal sacrifices for just to maintain.

Libra 9/23-10/22

Be careful that you aren't manipulating a romantic situation so your partner loses any power, Libra. You may think your actions are noble and well meaning, but you may be creating a scenario that has no basis in reality. People could be impressionable, but that doesn't mean you should take advantage of this by promoting your own interests at the expense of another's.

Scorpio 10/23-11/21

Things in the love department may be looking up for you, Scorpio, but beware that you aren't getting pushed around. Your partner could feel the need for more freedom in the relationship, while you're hoping to find more commitment. Take it one day at a time. Don't get ahead of yourself by projecting scenarios that may not come to fruition. You're only setting yourself up for disappointment.

Sagittarius

11/22-12/21

You may find that you're indecisive when it comes to issues concerning love and romance, Sagittarius. For some reason, you have a tendency to pull one way and then the other, yet neither way seems very rewarding. Don't feel like you have to take concrete action at this time. In fact, if you do, this commitment may cause you more frustration later.

Capricorn 12/22-01/19

Try to get more grounded in your actions regarding love and romance, Capricorn. You may need to take a more reserved approach in your actions in order to get where you need to go. At the same time, however, your freedom-loving, adventurous side may feel the need to roam more freely. This is a tough combination of energies to work with, so do your best to find a balance.

Aquarius 1/20-2/18

You're quite sure of yourself and solid about many things except one. When it comes to romantic relationships, you feel a bit unsure and inadequate, Aquarius. It could be that you're indecisive about how to proceed. There's a strong urge to take charge, but also a tendency to slow things down and let others take the lead. Figure out your needs before you make long-term plans with others.
