National Police Week 2023

FBI honors fallen law enforcement officers and employees during annual memorial observances

A candlelight vigil paying tribute to law enforcement officers who have died in the line of duty drew thousands to the National Mall on May 14 in Washington, D.C. The solemn gathering was the signature event of National Police Week, an annual tribute to law enforcement officers across the U.S. who made the ultimate sacrifice.

The vigil came a few days after a Special Agent Memorial Service at FBI Headquarters honoring the memories of fallen FBI agents. As part of this event, Director Christopher Wray helped lay a wreath in the building's courtyard on May 11 to honor the 92 Bureau employees who have lost their lives in the line of duty since 1925. In addition, two new names were added to the FBI's Wall of Honor: Supervisory Police Officer (Lt.) Yiu Tak "Louis" Tao and Supervisory Administrative Specialist Bryan A. Myers. Both died in 2022 from illnesses related to toxic air exposure during 9/11 recovery efforts.

Events for National Police Week included a K9 Memorial Service on May 13 at the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial and a candlelight

Deputy had the driver, Mr. Terry Collis, step out of the vehicle so he could get information for a warning citation. While writing the citation Deputy asked him if he was on probation or parole, and he stated he was on state probation for manufacture, sale and delivery of methamphetamine. Deputy then asked Mr. Collis if he could search his vehicle and he gave consent to do so. During the search, Deputy was on the driver's side of the vehicle and noticed a piece of plastic to be loose under the console. Deputy removed the plastic and noticed a black leather bag partially sticking out behind a piece of metal. Deputy retrieved the bag and discovered 2 separate bags in it. One had a crystal-like substance and the other was a white powdery substance. Mr. Collis was taken into custody at that time. The vehicle was picked up by his son. Mr. Collis was then transported to the Loudon County jail. Investigator Caleb Green tested both substances with the TruNarc and one was confirmed to be Meth-

Jennifer Rain, 40, Peartree Lane Loudon, was charged with DUI.

Deputy Parks LCSO, responded to the area of Highway 11 at the intersection of Natalie Boulevard to assist Deputy Branson on a traffic stop. Deputy Branson advised he had stopped the vehicle for speeding and the driver had advised she had consumed two alcoholic beverages.

Deputy made contact with the driver, Ms. Jennifer Rankin, and asked if she would be willing to perform Standardized Field Sobriety Tests and she consented. Ms. Rankin did perform Standardized Field Sobriety Tests, to which she performed poorly.

Corporal Wallen then administered ARIDE tests, to which she performed poorly. Based on Deputy training and experience and Ms. Rankin's performance on the Standardized Field Sobriety Tests and the ARIDE tests, Deputy was able to determine Ms. Rankin was under the influence of a drug or intoxicant that impaired her ability to safely operate a motor vehicle on a public roadway. Ms. Rankin was then placed under arrest and placed in the back of his patrol vehicle.

vigil on the National Mall on May 14.

“Even two decades later, it’s a day of devastation we keep reliving, year after year, as we lose more and more members of our FBI family to illnesses related to their work on and in the aftermath of 9/11,” Director Wray said. “Our nation owes Lou and Bryan a debt that we can never repay. Both were selfless, caring people who wouldn’t think twice about putting the lives of those we serve in front of their own. And that is exactly what they did.”

FBI Director Christopher Wray spoke at a Wall of Honor Memorial Ceremony on May 11, 2023 at FBI Headquarters and laid a wreath to honor the 92 Bureau employees who have lost their lives in the line of duty since 1925. Two new names were added to the FBI’s Wall of Honor: Supervisory Police Officer (Lt.) Yiu Tak “Louis” Tao and Supervisory Administrative Specialist Bryan A. Myers. Both died in 2022 from illnesses related to toxic air exposure during 9/11 recovery efforts.

The weeklong recognition of police officers dates back to 1962, when President John F. Kennedy designated May 15 as Peace Officers Memorial Day, and the week in which that date falls as Police Week.

The May 14 vigil, organized by the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Fund, included a roll-call of officers who died on the job in 2022. The organization’s memorial—a short distance from the U.S. Capitol—features two curving, 304-foot marble walls engraved with the names of more than 22,600 officers who have died while performing their duty since 1791.

The losses were underscored by the FBI’s recent release of statistics showing that 118 law enforcement officers were killed in the line of duty in 2022. So far in 2023, 22 law enforcement officers have lost their lives in the line of duty.

Horoscopes

a relationship, Taurus. Perhaps old demons have come back to haunt you about your freedom, and now you have doubts.
Gemini 5/21-6/20

You aren't the biggest advocate for working under constraints, Gemini, so today is going to be good for you. You will accept them, and gracefully. Do you understand the meaning of such a day? It would be wonderful if you learned how to hold onto the paradox you discover.
Cancer 6/21-7/22

Abandon the myth that you don't have any gifts or means at your disposal, Cancer. The proof is that you have your body. Are you taking care of yourself? Do you exercise? Do you take care of minor health issues?
Leo 7/23-8/22

Leo, if you're waiting for someone to fulfill all of your needs, you may have to wait a very long time. The paradox of love is that it arrives on your doorstep in its most profound form when you need it least.
Virgo 8/23-9/22

If you have children, their difficulties may remind you of your own, Virgo. Or their education brings back memories of your own. Have you held onto any issues from that period that still bother you today?

Libra 9/23-10/22

Don't spend beyond your means today, Libra! If you happen to be in a crowd of enthusiastic shoppers, it could be disastrous for your wallet. You could yield to the prevailing spending mood all too easily!
Scorpio 10/23-11/21

Minor tensions will arise today, Scorpio. Someone close to you, perhaps your partner or a parental figure - seems to be trying to convince you to adopt a certain behavior you aren't willing to follow. Will you negotiate gently or forcefully?
Sagittarius 11/22-12/21

The mood will be a bit oppressive today, Sagittarius. After meeting the challenges presented by the past several days, you're likely to want a little peace and quiet! But you can expect to be sought out and asked to assume your duties. You may feel like forgetting the whole thing and running away.

Capricorn 12/22-01/19

This isn't a day for subtle, sensitive people like you, Capricorn. In fact, the winner will probably be the one who shouts the loudest and bangs on the table. The air of aggression will have an effect on you. You could be somewhat upset and more vulnerable than usual.
Aquarius 1/20-2/18

Some differences of opinion concerning your love life may come up today, Aquarius. You could find your beloved taking more liberties than you allow yourself. Instead of resenting it, follow your partner's lead. This could be a chance to realize that you need more novelty in the emotional realm. Be open to looking into the possibilities.

Pisces 2/19-3/20

This day may not be one of your favorites, Pisces. You may be all too aware of the constraints of your chief occupation. You're likely to hanker for appropriate rewards for your labors. This is a good day to define new personal and professional goals.
Aries 3/21-4/19

Until now, you may have been too stubborn about doing what you want without trying to address the question of your financial means, Aries. Even if it seems too materialistic, it's urgent that you take care of this question. Push ahead and try to raise your standard of living, because you have something to learn in this domain.
